WELCOME FROM THE TTA PRESIDENT JEB COREY

Hello and welcome to Myrtle Beach for Mobilize 2023, our 105th Annual Convention!

I like to call this convention the confluence convention because we have so many amazing things coming together. For starters it is the 105th convention for The Transportation Alliance. This is truly an amazing feat to have had this many annual meetings. The association is 106 years old and has only missed one year of having a member meeting and that was back in 1918 due to travel restrictions from World War I.

This will also be Al LaGasse's last convention as he is retiring at the end of the year after 46 plus years of being with The Transportation Alliance. We have been beyond lucky to have had such a great leader for so long. As my year as president ends, I can tell you that Al's knowledge and devotion to the industry is unmatched. You will not want to miss the reception in Al's honor Thursday evening where we get to roast and toast him!!!

This meeting will not be your normal meeting. We have jam packed it with so many different things. One of the greatest things about TTA is the networking. This is where members get to know each other better, grow their industry contacts, and form lifelong friendships. Along with Al's reception, we have added a welcome beach party Tuesday night at the Tin Roof Beach Bar. We brought back the golf tournament in two flavors. One for the more serious golfers at Myrtlewood Golf Club and one for those less serious golfers at Captain Hook's miniature golf. This should bring back memories for those that remember the Southern Taxi Conference here at Myrtle Beach several decades ago. After the golf tournament we will have a reception and awards ceremony at The Crooked Hammock Brewery. Speaking of beer, did I mention we have a Biergarten in the exhibit hall?

Not only did we pack in super fun things, but we made sure there were top rate educational sessions. We added the Captains of Industry forums where you can learn from industry leaders about mergers and acquisitions as well as pricing and service trends. TTA's advisory committees worked hard to bring you fifteen amazing Learning Labs that cover an impressive range of diverse topics that will help any organization succeed in today's dynamic marketplace - including a multi-session workshop on risk management, which is one of the more important subjects in our industry. We have great general sessions to update you on what is going on at TTA and TLPF and I know you are going to want to see my friend Bill Yuhnke be sworn in as president. He has a great presentation lined up.

One of my favorite things at these conventions is the exhibit hall. We have an amazing group of exhibitors this year. This is where you can find the state-of-the-art technology, insurance solutions, information, consultants, and everything else to not only help your company succeed but get a few steps ahead. Spend some time here and talk to all the great vendors.

I especially want to thank our wonderful sponsors Paratransit Insurance Company, The Black Car Fund, Autofleet, MediRoutes, and IT Curves. Without them we could not make this conference as great as it is. They have booths in the exhibit hall so please stop by, check out what they are offering, and thank them for their sponsorship.

I also want to thank the executive committee, board of directors, advisory boards, task forces, exhibitors and the entire membership for all their support throughout the year. I especially need to thank Al LaGasse, Abena Bonso-Bruce, president-elect Bill Yuhnke, Nicole Smith, Kathy Kolander, Paul Miller and the entire team at Miller Wenhold for all the amazing work they did so that we could accomplish everything we did this year.

Now, please go and enjoy the conference and everything we packed in this year.

Sincerely,
Jeb Corey
President, The Transportation Alliance

A LETTER FROM TTA CEO AL LAGASSE

My heart is with TTA

It has been my life's work to help build TTA into a reputable, effective and powerful representative of our industry. Working with the board of directors, we created a strong work program (communications, government relations, meetings, research, and public relations) to serve our members.

Over the past 46 years, we grew from a few hundred members who received one monthly publication, a mostly reactive government relations program, one small annual convention, limited research, and almost no public relations, and transformed TTA into a 1,000+ member organization, with publications issued each week, a proactive government relations program, three national meetings with 1,000+ participants annually, a modest research program, and a modest public relations outreach program. We went from a $100,000 annual budget in 1979 to a $2 million budget before the pandemic.

Unfortunately, that more powerful representation took a major hit during the three-year, worldwide pandemic. Luckily TTA had built up our resources to withstand that hit and we are now in the process of rebuilding TTA back to its full potential.

I hope you have been reading my Backstage Chat articles in TTA's Transportation Insights newsletter (they will run through December). I've been covering my early years (1978 through 1987, so far) in more detail than I expected. That is because the work TTA (especially its presidents and boards) did back in the late 70s and all of the 80s opened the door to the widespread use of private operators in contracted services by public agencies.

It was TTA that marched in to the US Department of Transportation (DOT) in the 1970s demanding public operators stop unfairly competing against private transportation operators. That effort grew into TTA working with DOT to have DOT openly declare that public transit funds could be spent with private operators who contracted to provide publicly sponsored transportation programs. That effort helped turn an active competitor into many different contraction opportunities that many TTA members prosper from today.

TTA also marched into the US Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) in the 1980s demanding opportunity to provide publicly sponsored social service transportation (now called NEMT) by private sector transportation companies. The acceptance there was quicker and opened up greater contracting opportunities than existed at DOT, so that was another great victory for TTA that still benefits most of our members today.

When I get roasted on Thursday afternoon, I'll tell you some behind the scenes information that one just does not put into print. More importantly, I'll share some of my views on where TTA is headed and how we all need to work together to keep it the successful organization it has been since it was first formed in 1917. As we have always done, we need to continue to let the association evolve.

I have enjoyed working for TTA and with the truly great friends I have met here over the last 46 years. My past presidents were truly the best. Even so, I'll turn 69 in two months, I'm basically healthy, but I've slowed down a lot over the past two years, and I'm ready to retire. Still, my heart is with you and TTA forever.

Best,
Al
TTA's soon to be fully retired CEO

IMPORTANT NOTICES

Name Badges

Each person entering the Mobilize 2023 Expo Hall at the Myrtle Beach Convention Center or attending any TTA meeting or optional event MUST display their TTA name badge. Security guards have been instructed to turn away those who do not display a name badge. There will be no exceptions made to this rule.

Each registrant must pick up his or her own name badge and no one else's. The only exception is a registrant may pick up the name badge of his or her spouse and child(ren).

Exhibitor, Sponsor, Board Member and other designations are clearly noted on each badge.

Registration Desk

If you have any questions during the week, please stop by the TTA Registration Desk located in the Hall of Fame Foyer near the entrance to the Expo Hall.

Trade Show & Meetings Rooms

Meeting rooms as well as the Expo Hall are located in the Myrtle Beach Convention Center. The Convention Center is attached to the Sheraton off of the hotel lobby.

Ticketed Events

No tickets are required for the opening party at the Tin Roof on Tuesday night, but you do need to be registered for the convention to attend.

Events to benefit the TLPA Foundation on Friday require an additional fee.

Friday Fun Day to Benefit the TLPA Foundation

Golfers of all talents will take to the courses on Friday! Some will show-off their skills at Myrtlewood Golf Club for a morning on the links. Others will head off to Captain Hook Mini Golf for a few hours of friendly competition. Then everyone will gather at the Crooked Hammock Brewery in the city's Barefoot Landing for a great lunch, tasty brews, and the Awards Ceremony for both golf and mini golf. Join in the fun! Visit the TTA Registration Desk for more information on availability and pricing.

Complimentary Internet

The Myrtle Beach Convention Center has complimentary Wifi available in the meeting space. Please note that the bandwidth for this service is not sufficient for streaming or sharing large files. We ask you to please limit your use of the WiFi in the meeting space to just basic functions so there is enough bandwidth for all to share. Find the network "Convention Center" in your device. The password is MBCC2022.

Exhibit Hall Opening Reception

Enjoy a taste of OctoberFest at the opening reception! Brats, potato salad, and other German delights will be on display – and visit the Bier Garten for special draft brews from local breweries!

We've got Tidal Creek Hefeweizen and also Airbrush Hazy IPA of the Grand Strand brewery on tap.

Exhibitors will be passing out "Jeb Bucks" to those who visit with them. Collect some, then take them to the teller table in the TTA Lounge to reveal if or how much you've won! Exhibitors are not obligated to give them to you if you don't stop to chat – say hi to all of them – it will be worth your while.

Solicitation Notice To All

The support of our exhibitors at the Mobilize 2023 Annual Convention & Expo makes it possible for The Transportation Alliance to hold this first-class convention with an operator member registration fee below the actual cost. We encourage all industry vendors to exhibit, and we encourage all operators to only conduct business (while at the convention) with exhibiting vendors. Exhibiting vendor badges feature a red banner with the word "Exhibitor."

Vendors who choose not to exhibit (whether they are registered to attend or not) are prohibited from soliciting any of our convention registrants during the convention this week. Unfortunately, sometimes non-exhibiting vendors do make an effort to capitalize on the convention by one-on-one soliciting and by inviting our attendees to private meetings and hospitalities. Please support your convention by ignoring these prohibited solicitations and notifying The Transportation Alliance of the solicitation.

The Transportation Alliance encourages all operators to visit each booth and vehicle display and thank the exhibitors for their support. They are the legitimate vendors with whom you want to conduct business this week.

Thank you!
